Initial-Build-Notes

- Home page looks good
 - Make sure to check image resolution
 - Typography is working well, matches the language from the mockups
 - Would be easy to stack the composition vertically for mobile breakpoint
- About page can have title in italics to mimic home page
 - Each interior page can have different title treatments
 - Body type looks legible, could have slightly more leading
 - Image on the about page has nice contrast and resolution
 - For mobile breakpoint the image of Ando may have to go beneath the text
- Navigation back to homepage could be more clear
 - Maybe switch name to just say “home”
 - This could apply to all interior pages
- Other interior pages weren't available for review, so we will review them next week
